

The physical human body is a divine animal, it has spiritual centers, and is the temple and vessel of the Holy Spirit (the real and eternal you) but it also has the instincts of the other animals. Procreation self survival, aggression and fear.

When the inner true SELF, the eternal you, becomes identified with the physical body-brain it assumes and experiences the sensations and instincts of the body-brain more or less depending on its, degree and depth of association.