

The only true freedom is God-self-realization, and the "remembrance" of all things.

What most people call freedom, is just irresponsibility, and lack of self control.

To do what ever you want when ever you want is still not true freedom.